Miner Murdered Defending Honor Of Betrothed

Thinking Out Loud

(By H. M. L.)

The Rev. Washburn, who is fond of dogs, was offered a fox terrier pup some months ago. The son and daughter besought him to accept the gift. The rector's wife, however, had other views. "No dogs wanted," she said, and gave several reasons, especially reasons pertaining to pups. But at length, the majority won, not openly to be sure, but by a strategy. The pup was slyly inserted into the household. The lady of the house was not pleased by this rebellion. She would have nothing to do with the dog; the insurrectionary members of the family must do all the training and take all care of the pet. Thus matters rested; thus a truce was declared.

One day the rector returning from a fishing trip, or from a call on a parishioner, as the case may be, approached the back door of his home and heard his wife speaking to some one in the kitchen. He paused and listened, uncertain whether he should intrude or not. This is what he heard: "And did oo leave oo fazza and oo muzza and come to live wif us?" It was Mrs. Washburn speaking to the pup.

Yes, there is a sequel to this story. Last week the two youngsters were out one evening. The rector had not returned from an after dinner call. Mrs. Washburn, alone in the house, sitting in the drawing room which opens off the hall. The fox terrier, now grown, was lying beside her. Presently he raised his long, sensitive ears, and stood up, intensely listening. Mrs. Washburn, too, listened. She heard the door into the hall creak a little. The terrier dashed through the intervening curtain, growling savagely. The door into hall banged and the outside door crashed closed a second later. A prowler, finding the outside door opened had entered the hall, had been scared by the terrier and rushed away. Down the street the slinking figure hurried. "No dogs wanted?" Well, it depends.

Since the CCC camps were begun April, 1933, approximately 1,500,000 young men have been enrolled in them. Enrollees served an average of eight months. With but few exceptions they sent to their families $25 out of the $30 they received. The war department estimates that the total thus sent to needy families in the United States and its possessions where CCC or similar camps were opened, amounts to $240,000,000. This is a form of relief in which American youth, their families, all citizens and posterity were benefitted. The young men came out of the camps benefitted physically, by the food, mentally by the discipline, and spiritually by the contact with the out-of-doors. Their families in most instances were tided over the worst conditions of the depression. The people of the country were benefitted in having their vast forest possessions adequately cared for, opened to access for health and recreational purposes, and preserved from destructive fires. Posterity for years to come will benefit in the same manner. This is one of the New Deal measures which should be perpetuated.

"To defend the provisions of the so-called contributary, called the Social Security Act, indicates, I truly believe, lack of intelligent perspective as inspired by human rights. We proudly acknowledge the Townsend Plan is a distinct threat to every phase of debauchery, the slimy toils of what threaten every expedient of rational life." Dear me! Head 'em off before they attain their Heavenly goal over the dead and mutilated body of the English language. Two hundred a month will never justify this diabolical slaughter.

Postoffice Receipts Gain 20 pct. In Two Years

In two years the receipts in the Nevada City postoffice have increased by 20 per cent. In 1933 the receipts were $17,405.21. In 1935 the recepits totaled $21,143.51, a gain of $3,738.30.

The receipts of 1934 amounted to a total of $19,744.82. This, Postmaster Betty Martin West states, represented the largest gain in many years. In that year the receipts jumped $2,339.61. Last year, 1935, the postal receipts amounted to an increase of $1,398.69.

Postal receipts everywhere are regarded as one of the best indices of business activity. Nevada City's office makes a better relative showing than many other postoffices in California.

HEAVY RAIN DOES LITTLE DAMAGE

Rains continue to fall intermittently bringing the rainfall to somewhere near normal for the season in this district. Heavy winds accompanied the deluge of rain Thursday night and Friday forenoon, but did not do much of any damage.

As measured since last Thursday afternoon about four inches of moisture has fallen bringing the season's total to approximately 23 inches.

Three snow plows from the local highway division under Superintendent Rred Garrison, are working on the Tahoe-Ukiah highway east of Nevada City. Between six and seven inches of new snow fell during the week end, but cars were able to pass. A slide of earth and rocks closed the road beyond Bear Valley in the last few days.

Last Friday night six inches of new snow had fallen on Yuba Pass.

A flood of water from Browns Valley creek poured into the shaft of the Pennsylvania mine southeast of Nevada City in the last few days, flooding the mine in about twenty minutes. It occurred between shifts with no serious damage. The 1,000 foot shaft had been unwatered to the 400 foot level and crews were mining and developing on that level. Work is suspended temorarily, but the Empire-Star Company of Grass Valley who have the option on the property have hauled larger pumps to the shaft and are unwatering it.

ROSEVILLE WINS NEV. CITY GAME

(By BEN SWEENEY)

Unable to overcome slight leads, the Nevada City high school A and B teams dropped both games to Roseville quintet at Armory Hall on Friday evening. Both contests were interesting, the A ending 30 to 13 and the B with a 36 to 22 final score.

Trailing at the end of every quarter, the local B's found the opposition too stiff. The outstanding floor work of Schiffner, Gates, and Brown did not outweigh, the obvious lack of first-string material in this game. Both Brown and Schiffner were out on fouls before the game ended weakening further the B team setup. The scoring was done by the following men: Bennett, 7; Organ, 5; Schiffner, 4; Brown, 2; Gates, 2; Mullis, 2.

The starters for the A contest, Nevada City, were: Elliott, f; Wilde, f; Lopez, c; Santinelli, g; Steger, g. The half found the locals behind just three points, but, not up to their early season record in shooting, they failed to overtake the Roseville squad. Three men did the scoring for the Yellowjacket team. Lopez leading with 9. Elliott and Steger scored two points each on foul shots. Early in the second half, the locals fell into their shooting rut, and throughout the second period, they made but three points while the visitors scored seventeen.

The visiting coaches were Moeiller and Rasmussen with Farrell Wren acting as referee.

MINER FALLS TO DEATH IN SIXTEEN-TO-ONE

Almost instant death came to Ted Miller of Forest, Saturday, when it is supposed he lost his footing in coming to the surface at the Sixteen-to-One mine at Alleghany, falling a distance of 300 feet. A wife and other relatives survive him.

A. C. Hooper of Holmes Funeral Home of Nevada City who was making arrangements for the funeral of the late Mrs. Penberthy, brought the remains to this city. Funeral services will be held at 2:30 this afternoon at Holmes Funeral Home in this city. Interment to be in Pine Grove cemetery.

THIS ARTISTIC WELL IS WELL WORTH SEEING

An ornamental and very useful well has been constructed by Thomas Lawrence, just outside his big garage and auto wrecking establishment on the Tahoe-Ukiah highway. The well is for the use of the many wayfarers that use this road between the coast and Lake Tahoe.

The well is round with a high curbing of stones in a great assortment of color and texture, with a roof substantially constructed of bark over stout beams. In the center hangs a well wheel. Round the curbings is arranged a pavement of flat tones. The design and refreshment of ever cold spring water, are both attractive.

WHY NOT TRY OUT TOWNSEND PLAN IN NEV. COUNTY?

The following letter from Arthur V. Foote is self explanatory:

January 12, 1936.

Editor, the Nevada City Nugget

Dear Sir:

Mr. Robinson's letter in Monday's Nugget about the Townsend Plan, as usual, confuses money with value. The national income is not the amount of money received by everyone in the nation; it represents only the money received in payment for goods produced or services rendered. It is no more possible to increase the national income by putting 9,600,000 non-producers on the payroll at $2400 a year than it is for Mr. Robinson to increase his own income by paying $200 a month to all his friends and relatives for doing nothing. The national income was paid only to the producers, and they in turn supported the non-producers, teachers, policemen, government officials, children and old folks, supported them either voluntarily or by paying taxes. Therefore, increasing the amount necessary to support the non-producers does not add to the national income. Money is a measure of values—a man who has nothing of value to exchange for money can have no income, unless he receives it as charity or steals it. The only way to increase the national income is to produce more goods or services exchangeable for money.

If the Townsend Plan will work at all, it will work on a small scale as well as a large one. Why not try it in Nevada County? Make a list of those now elibigle for the $200.00 a month, so as not to attract outsiders. Using the ratio of the population of Nevada County to that of the Untied States, a rough calculation indicates that the Plan should increase the income of Nevada County by $3,600,000 a year.

ARTHUR B. FOOTE.

(Editor's Note: Taxes raised for every purpose in Nevada County, outside the incorporated cities, last year totaled $260,300. In order to raise $3,600,000 to pension Nevada County's proportion of persons over 60 years of age, it would be necessary to multiply the present tax rate by almost 14. The base rate this year is $1.40. Multiplying this by 14 would give the tax payers a rate of $19.60 per $100 assessed valuation.)

Christian Meyers Dies At Hands of Thugs

Murdered while defending the honor of the girl he was engaged to marry in March. That is the story of Christian Meyer of Grass Valley, who died yesterday morning at 6 o'clock from a gun shot wound received in a battle with two thugs at one o'clock in the morning on the Tahoe Ukiah highway grade above Nevada City.

The girl, Gwendolyn Coates, 18 years old, the daughter of Mrs. Middlewick of Glenbrook, side by side, fought with her betrothed against the two human beasts, until a brutal blow in the face knocked her over the bank, half stunned and bleeding.

When she told her story to the Nevada County officers Sunday morning she was still hysterical:

"We had stopped on the grade and were trying to get the car to go," she said. "Chris was cranking it, and finding he could not start it was working with the engine. These two men in a green sedan drove up the grade stopped in front of our car. Both men wore handkerchiefs over their faces.

"The two men got out of their car and one came around to my side of the car, the other stayed with Chris. Chris said: "If it's money you want, here is my wallet. I don't think there's more than a dollar in it. The man on my side grabbed me and tried to pull me out of the car. Chris said: 'You leave my girl alone.'

"They did not want money. They wanted me."

They both pitched onto Chris. I got out of the car and grabbed the crank and began to beat them over the head. I don't know why it did not hurt more.

"The shorter of the two then pointed a shotgun at me. Chris grabbed the barrel and got shot. They made me get back into the car. Chris staggered to the front of the car and the men began beating him again. They knocked him down and began kicking him. I got out of the car screaming.

'I tried to help him. They struck me terribly hard. I fell back and went over the bank. I hid behind a bush. I knew I could not do Chris any good if I were killed. One of the men said: 'The dame is done for. Let's shove the car over the bank.'

"They couldn't get the car started because the wheels near the bank were in the mud. So they turned around and drove back toward Nevada City.

"I crawled back up the bank and helped Chris climb into the car. We could not get the car going so I ran toward Nevada City for help.

"Chris kept honking the horn to let me know he was alright. I ran half a mile. I guess, before someone came along and gave me a ride. I went to the sheriff's office then back to the car to bring Chris in."

Christian Meyers died at 6 o'clock yesterday morning following an operation. The shotgun fired at close range was a twelve gauge. One buck shot only had penerated his left chest fracturing a rib which punctured his left lung. The buckshot lodged near the spine. The immediate cause of death was internal hemmorhage. The autopsy was performed by Dr. Carl P. Jones.

Details of the fatal shooting pieced together by the officers from the story told by Miss Coates indicate that the two masked thugs were scouting along the highway during the evening before their attack on Christian Meyer. Miss Coates was sure that the two men had passed them and then had returned. A few minutes before Meyer's car stalled on the grade they had been stuck in the mud higher up. The people in the car who finally pulled them out, stated that two masked men had driven up alongside their car, but after looking them over and driven away without molesting them. It is indicated that the thugs were bent on wresting some girl was from any car whose occupants seemed unable to put up much defense.

Christian Meyer was born 23 years ago in San Francisco. Before coming to Nevada county he had been a driver of racing automobiles He had been steadily employed in the Empire mine for more than a year He lived at 225 Bank street, Grass Valley, and was the son of Christian and the late Katherine Meyer. He leaves his father, his step-mother, Mrs. Amelia Meyer, a brother, Henry J. Meyer, and several step-brothers and sisters.

The body, in charge of W. R. Jefford and Son was shipped to San Francisco this morning. Coroner Bob Jefford stated this morning that an inquest will be held later in the week.

The description of the two murderers given by Miss Coates is meager. One man was tall, the other short, she stated. The tall man wore a black sweater and the short man a tan overcoat. She had a good view of them at times because the head lights on both cars were turned on. While Christian Meyers was defending her in the road, Miss Coates states, a car drove by without stopping to find out what the trouble was or to give aid.

Sheriff Carl J. Tobiassen, his deputies, the California highway patrolmen and all county officers are bending every effort to bring the two murderers to justice.

Sheriff Tobiassen this afternoon asked the Npgget to appeal to the public for any infomration anyone may have that will lead to the arrest of, or even give a clue, to the murderers. Anything in regard to the bereaved girl and her slain sweetheart, which may shed light on this tragedy will be gratefully received, in confidence by the sheriff.

Famous Hand Writing Expert is Witness in Perjury Trial Here

Edward O. Heinrich, famous detective and handwriting expert of San Francisco, took the stand this afternoon in the trial of Mrs. Alpha Lattin Hanson, charged with perjury, which opened today in the superior court, Judge Raglan Tuttle, presiding.

District Attorney Vernon Stoll prosecuted the case, and Attorneys Armstrong and Cassettari appeared for Mrs. Hanson.

Hall and Tetrow, carpenters who built the new house opposite the high school on the Nevada City Grass Valley highway, for Mrs Hanson, were witnesses for the prosecution. They alleged that Mrs. Hanson, then Mrs. Lattin, altered receipts for money, which she paid them, so as to make it appear that they were contractors instead of mechanics employed in day labor upon her house. Hall and Tetrow were later arrested and tried under the state law, which requires contractors to obtain state licenses, but were acquitted.

Following the trial of Hall and Tetrow, Mrs. Hanson was arrested for perjury having sworn that the alterations in her recepits were in the handwriting of one of the carpenters. It was upon this point that district attorney employed Heinrich to testify this afternoon.

Samples of Mrs. Hanson's handwriting and the handwriting on the receipts, of which there were four, were compared in enlarged photographs and exhibited to the jury.

The jury box was filled by the following: George W. Brown, Stanley Woolcock, Maurice Kach, Alex Bierwagen, J. A. Graves, A. C. McQuiston, Edward Callison, Phil N. Pharis, Grover Wilson, Arthur Kendall, Harold Ennor and C. B. Grenfell.

Bias of The Metropolitan Press

(Contributed)

As one of the country's leading industrialists and largest advertisers for a generation, Edward A. Filene, Boston merchant and economist of note, would seem to be qualified to discuss the metropolitan press. And when he declared in a nation-wide radio address last week that Big Business is driving independence from American journalism his evident purpose was to render a public service. He said he had concluded it was high time the public understand why most of the newspapers which were loud in their praise of President Roosevelt whilst banks were closing and business was prostrate should now, even while they chronicle the day to day story of returning prosperity in their financial sections, severely criticize the President and all his efforts, both editorially and otherwise.

Mr. Filene's address traced the development of journalism into a large-scale business enterprise in the course of which the independent type of metropolitan newspaper has become a rare exception. "It doesn't make much difference as to the politics of the editor," he asserted. "What makes a difference is who owns the paper—not who writes the editorials. And it just happens to be a fact that most of our great American dailies are owned or controlled by Bib Business or by banking interests.

The growth of newspapers of this type, he continued, is not the result of venality or influence on editorial policy by advertisers. Nor have the newspapers trimmed news policies to fit reactionary policies. Not personal political policies of publishers, but the determination to advance the interests of Big Business, of which they are a part, is the key to the bias of most newspapers against liberal ideas, he declared.

"To secure advertising of national advertisers, the newspapers had to become big," Mr. Filene asserted. "To do that required new and expensive equipment and that required much new capital. In many cases newspapers which had been fighting each other pooled their interests and merged, and the papers which did not merge into large units presently found themselves in financial straits.

"That's where the banks came in. There was no conspiracy. The newspaper business, to them, was just like any other business which had once been profitable could not longer meet its obligations, creditors simply had to take some action. If the property could be merged with other properties, that was one way out. All over the United States the same thing began to happen. The day of personal journalism was ending. The day of Big Business arrived. It could not be otherwise. So the newspapers and Big Business want recovery but not reform."

"We must admit," concluded the veteran Bostonian, "that it is a serious situation when the owners and finincial backers of most of our larger newspapers do not want the masses of America to understand what the Roosevelt Administration has been really doing. But all that we really need to do is to understand the nature of these attacks. The privileged classes made a religious of their privileges but when our machines became so productive that their output could not be sold unless the masses were able to buy it, that old attitude of capitalism no longer worked. Coolidge Prosperity turned into Hoover Depression, not because we changed our ways but because we did not change our ways when a change had become absolutely necessary. So there had to be a New Deal. Every act of the Roosevelt Administration has been an effort to get adequate buying power into the hands of the masses, so they might keep business good and themselves employed."

RECKLESS AUTO DRIVERS TO LOSE THEIR LICENSES

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 13.—"Habitual traffic violator" today became an appellation to avoid as department of motor vehicles started drastic action to eliminate one of the most dangerous of auto drivers from the highways of California.

Under instructions from Ray Ingels, director of motor vehicles, department files are being combed for consecutive traffic law violators and "stop" cards are being sent up to revoke licenses of all persons determined to be habitual offenders against the vehicle code.

In addition to immediate action to revoke licenses of persons determined to be habitual law violators, said Ingels, the department will tag those autoists whose records indicate they are prospective habitual violators. Such prospects, according to the director, will be served with sealed warnings stating that further offense will result in revocation of license.

"Powers invested by the new vehicle code made it possible to take more drastic action against persons who continually speed, drive recklessly, or break parking laws," said Ingels, "and I intend to go the limit in removing these types of motorists from our highways."

From Aunt Sarah

In summer its the frozen puddings that tempt the palate but now it is the good old fashioned baked or steamed pudding with a hot sauce. So try these and you'll find them easy to make and delicious to taste.

HONEY-RICE PUDDING

Two cups cooked rice.
Two eggs beaten light.
One-third to one-half cup honey.
One-half cup chopped dates.

Mix beaten eggs and milk. Make alternate layers of rice, and dates. Drizzle honey over each of these layers. Repeat this procedure until all rice and fruit is used .Pour beaten eggs and milk over this mixture. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) for forty five minutes.

Serve with hot lemon sauce or hard sauce.

BAKED GRAHAM CRACKER PUDDING

Crumble some graham crackers. mix with three-fourths as much sweetened apple sauce, add a little melted butter and an egg or two, stir, and bake in small pudding dish in moderate oven about 35 minutes or forty minutes. Serve with hot lemon sauce or butterscotch sauce.

BUTTERSCOTCH SAUCE

Boil together, one cup dark Karo, one-half cup sugar and one tablespoon cream or evaporated milk until syrup forms a soft ball in cold water. Remove from fire, add one tablespoon butter, pinch of salt, one-half teaspoon vanilla, two tablespoons boiling watef. Stir all together.

STATE FORESTRY BENEFITTED BY WPA PROJECTS

In letter to State Senator Jerrold I. Seawell, the director of the state's natural resources department G. D. Nordenholt, recounts the good work that has been done, or is now going forward, toward securing WPA projects that advance fire prevention in the state's forests. The letter which thanks Senator Seawell for his part in maturing and carrying forward these projects, follows:

Honoralble Jerrold L. Seawell,
Roseville, California.

Dear Jerry:

I want to thank you for your cooperation and your wonderful help in assisting us to get WPA projects for Nevada, Placer and Sierra counties.

In Nevada County, we have a $123,750 project, consisting of one suppression crew barracks, one five car garage, one ranger house, one ranger baracks and one warehouse and 80 miles of road betterment.

From the Nevada City Camp, we have a $74,250 project and will build at Auburn one ranger house, one two room office, one warehouse 30x80, 122 miles of road betterment and roadside hazard reduction.

In Placer County, we have a $99,000 project to be worked out of Applegate Camp. This has not been opened yet due to the lack of men. Also we have a $4,200 project to build a telephone line from Howell Mt. to Pine Grove with a spike camp out of Nevada City.

In Sierra County, we have a $22,405 project to build a new hatchery on the Yuba river, consisting of a hatchery building, superintendent's cottage, a garage, diversion dams, septic tank and sewer system. This has not been started because of the lack of men at present, and even if we were able to get the men, we have a lack of housing for same. Please see what you can do in this situation.

In addition to the above in these three counties we have the Division of Mines project, which is making a complete ownership map of all property mining claims in all the mining districts. This is being made from the records in the office of the County Recorders of the various counties.

In addition to this we have several Division of Mines projects which will affect the three above named counties.

Thanks for your cooperation.

Very sincerely yours.

'DODSWORTH' ON STAGE IN SACTO. WEDNES, NIGHT

Walter Huston, the star of "Dodsworth," the elaborate Max Gordon smash hit which will be presented at the Memorial Auditorium in Sacramento Wednesday night, January 15 achieved stardom in the legitimate theatre after many years of headlining in vaudeville when Brock Pemberton chose him for the title role in "Mister Pitt." Many dramatic successes followed, eventually leading to a cinema career which kept Mr. Huston away from the stage until two seasons ago when he returned to play the title role of "Dodsworth."

Only too frequently the alluring promise of a "New York cast and production" proves illusory. It will not be so in the case of "Dodsworth'.' Mr. Huston will be supported by Juliette Crosby, Nan Sunderland, Ethel Jackson, Helen Zelinskapa, Beatrice Maude, Doris Day, Baroness de Hollup, Paul Porter, Harlan Briggs, Bram Nossen, Gregory, Gaye, Leslie Dennison, Frank Taylor, and Richard Courtney. There will olso be Jo Mielziner's fourteen radiply shifting settings and two revolving stages.

"Dodsworth" has made theatrical history in New York, Chicago, Philadelphia, and other large cities. The playbill is fairly studded with names interesting. Sinclair Lewis, Sidney Howard, Walter Huston, and Max Gordon—there's a quartet for you.

On the stage they form an association that has provided the greatest popular success in the contemporary theatre. Lewis, is, of course, the author of the original novel; Howard the playwright who adapted it for the stage. Huston, the star who has made the hit of his life in the rich role of Samuel Dodsworth, and Gordon, the producer.

Seats for this production are on sale at Ye Music Shoppe, 1014 10th Street, Sacramento, California. Prices range from 50c to $2.50 plus tax. Mail orders given prompt attention.

PRESIDENT'S BALL WILL BE BIG EVENT

Chas. H. Barker, chairman of the President's Ball committee, has appointed Mrs. Betty Martin West, Francis Finnegan and Christian Anderson a publicity and promotion committee for Nevada City. From Grass Valley a committee consisting of Mrs. R. Curneen, Tony Casci, Ray Terrill, Jerry Lelaney and William Cassettari were appointed for the same purpose.

The President's Ball will be held in the Grass Valley Memorial hall on the evening of January 30. The committees plan to make it a larger event than last year. P. G. and E. PAYS MILLIONS TO CITIES AND TO COUNTIES

We have paid the first installment of our 1935-36 tax bill to local subdivisions of government throughout the territory we serve. The total for the year will be approximately $7,000,000.

Every city and county and every school district receives a share of this amount. The first payments ranged from $1,262,137.29 to the City and County of San Francisco, to lesser amounts in smaller communities.

UTILITY TAXES RELIEVE PRIVATE PROPERTY

Under the Riley-Stewart Act, which repealed the State tax upon the gross revenues of public utilities, the property of this Company is now assessed and taxed by local governments in the same manner as all other property.

Restoration of utility property to general taxation gives to every local government a substantial increase in tax revenue and thus relieves other property of part of its tax load. In San Francisco, for example, the P. G. and E.'s tax payments for the year represent 20 cents of the tax rate.

LARGEST TAXPAYER IN 28 COUNTIES

In addition to being the largest taxpayer in California, this Company now becomes the largest taxpayer in each of 28 counties of the State—more deeply concerned than ever with the responsibilities of citizenship in each community it serves.
